

..... Jagua Aftercare

❖ Jagua will take 30 minutes or up to 1 hour to fully dry.

❖ Leave the jagua on your skin for 3-6 hours. Relax during this time. DO NOT plan to exercise, go dancing, or take part in any kind of activity that will cause you to sweat. Sweating with the gel on your skin can cause the lines to blur.

❖ Remove the jagua gel after 3-6 hours by washing and rinsing away with warm running water and soap. Make sure all of the dark blue gel rinses away from your skin. Showering is recommended.

Don't use a loofa or anything that will cause your skin to exfoliate.

❖ The jagua stain is first very light and develops into a dark blue/black over the next 24-48 hours

❖ DO NOT sleep with the jagua gel on your skin! The jagua stain or tattoo can transfer to other body parts and other people during the first 12-24 hours of application.

❖ After you have washed away the jagua gel and before bedtime, it's recommended to cover the skin area with toilet paper or gauze and tape or wear clothing over it while you are sleeping.

❖ The jagua tattoo stain results depends on the placement on your body as well as your skin type.

❖ Jagua is similar to henna in that it will stain darkest on hands and feet and lighter on other areas.

❖ Avoid soaking or swimming, especially in the ocean. Apply all natural oils, like olive oil, jojoba or coconut oil to the tattoo, especially before showering or taking part in activities that will cause you to sweat.

Jagua gel is 100% all natural! Made from Amazonian fruit, citric acid, xanthan gum, & lavender oil.
